Associate Dean for Extension Search

In light of the hiring pause, and general uncertainty with COVID-19. Dr. Jacqueline “Jackie” Wilkins has agreed to continue to serve as interim director of OSU Extension in the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences until a new associate dean and director for OSU Extension is appointed.

Dr. Wilkins has been serving as interim director of OSU Extension since August 1, 2019. As interim director of OSU Extension Jackie has continued her leadership for the Operations team including supervision of staff; assumed supervision of the OSU Extension administrative staff; served on the CFAES VP Cabinet and assisted the VP/Dean and college leadership with college strategic planning and implementation of strategic priorities.

Please join me in thanking Jackie for her service as interim director of OSU Extension as she continues this crucial leadership role in the college.

Dean Cathann A. Kress, Ph.D.
